

HORIZON-CL2-2022-TRANSFORMATIONS-01-03: Conditions of irregular migrants in Europe
HORIZON-CL2-2022-TRANSFORMATIONS-01-09: Return and readmission of irregular migrants in the EU
EXPERTISE OFFER — TASK LEAD, PARTNER

Researcher — Réka Friedery, PhD

Réka Friedery is a Research Fellow at the Institute for Legal Studies, Department of European Union Law and International Law, at the Centre for Social Sciences. Her research interests include various areas of EU law, such as migration, extra-judicial accountability and transparency, citizens' participation and democratic life of the EU. Friedery's recent research focuses on aspects of migration and populism; AI in migration policies, free movement and border policy, accountability and corruption. She applies both qualitative and quantitative content analysis.

More information: Researcher profile

Expertise offer for the call

- mobility-migration-free movement: EU and national policies (Hungary, Germany)
- specific topics: AI in migration policies, populism and migration, family reunification, unaccompanied minors, social benefits of migrants, border policies during migration and pandemic crisis,
- extra-judicial accountability and citizens' participation in the EU institutions, access to documents and transparency, the right to good administration, democratic principles,
- law of the European Convention of Human Rights

Relevant research experience, projects & publications

- DEMOS (H2020 project) Democratic Efficacy and the Varieties of Populism in Europe, 2018-2022
- Visegrad Fund Project (No. 21420415) Application of Competition Law in the Visegrad Countries
- Publication: Réka Friedery, The Development of the German Immigration Policy after 2015: a balancing act between populism and EU policy, Slovak Yearbook of European Union Law 1 : 1 pp. 69-80; (2021)
- Publication: Réka Friedery. Promoting democracy through the work of the EU Ombudsman, Review of European Affairs, 4: 1 pp. 5-16; (2020)
- Publication: Réka Friedery; Fabio, Marcelli: The right to family reunification in the European Union Law and the CJEU Jurisprudence. In: Réka, Friedery; Luigino, Manca; Ralf, Roskopf (eds) Family Reunification: International, European and National Perspectives. BWV Berliner Wissenschafts-Verlag, pp. 49-80 (2017)

Contact: Réka Friedery, PhD, Research Fellow, Institute for Legal Studies. Email: friedery.reka@tk.hu

Centre for Social Sciences (CSS) Budapest

The Centre for Social Sciences \(CSS\) Budapest is the flagship research institute of social sciences in Hungary. It conducts disciplinary and interdisciplinary research in the areas of

- sociology
- political science
- computational social science
- network science
- minority studies and
- legal studies

using the latest scientific methods and high quality research data. CSS Budapest is dedicated to building collaborative, trans-disciplinary research networks both within Hungary and internationally.

