

HORIZON-CL2-2021-DEMOCRACY-01-05: Politics and governance in a post-pandemic world
EXPERTISE OFFER — WP LEAD, TASK LEAD, PARTNER

Researcher — Boldizsár Szentgáli-Tóth, PhD

Boldizsár Szentgáli-Tóth is a Research Fellow at the Centre for Social Sciences, Institute for Legal Studies (Budapest), Department of Constitutional Law. He has research experience in the fields of comparative constitutional law, database building and mixed-method research design. He has special interest in post-Covid constitutionalism and the legal impact of modern technology as well as the comparative analysis of constitutional identity, freedom of expression at the digital age and electoral policies especially in the post-Covid period.

More information: researcher's profile

Expertise offer for the call

- ◆ Building databases and draft country report from Hungary
- ◆ Conduct comparative research in the field of comparative constitutional law
- ◆ Conduct survey researches and write case notes
- ◆ Prepare policy briefs and analyse the relevant European Court of Human Rights case law

Relevant research experience, projects & publications

- The perspectives of comparative constitutional law constitutional case law around the world during the pandemic (NKFIH—Hungarian Research and Innovation Council Fund 138366)
- Crises and democracy: the long-term impact of COVID-19 on V4 country's electoral systems [Visegrad Fund, 22120065]
- Freedom of expression during the digital age [Hungarian-Slovenian bilateral fund for Scientific and Technological Cooperation, 2019-2.1.11-TÉT-2020-00243]
- WFA/98/2/1/FE/2021 - Örökéletű Tölgy, Waclaw Felczak Foundation, the perspectives on applying artificial intelligence in the judicial systems of Central-Europe
- B. Szentgáli-Tóth. 'Robotic personhood and its potential impact to democracy. Should artificial intelligence be citizens and vested with right to vote?' In: Garayová, Lilla (szerk.) The Law of the Future – The Future of Law (Conference Proceedings) Bratislava, Szlovákia : Paneurópska vysoká škola (2021) pp. 771-807. , 37 p.
- N. Chronowski, K. Kálmán., B. Szentgáli-Tóth. 'Artificial Intelligence, Justice, and Certain Aspects of Right to a Fair Trial' ACTA UNIVERSITATIS SAPIENTIAE LEGAL STUDIES Volume 10 No. 2, 2021 pp. 169-189. , 21 p. (2021)

Contact: Boldizsár Szentgáli-Tóth, Institute for Legal Studies. Email: szentgali-toth.boldizsar@tk.hu

Centre for Social Sciences (CSS) Budapest

The Centre for Social Sciences \(CSS\) Budapest is the flagship research institute of social sciences in Hungary. It conducts disciplinary and interdisciplinary research in the areas of

- sociology
- political science
- computational social science
- network science
- minority studies and
- legal studies

using the latest scientific methods and high quality research data. CSS Budapest is dedicated to building collaborative, trans-disciplinary research networks both within Hungary and internationally.

